

Policy on Comparative Questions

As a matter of policy, unless an official announcement of known facts is issued, the AMC Office of History refrains from sanctioning claims involving "firsts" or the "most" because they often are difficult to substantiate and frequently are contested by other claimants.