¡Hola! Bienvenido a Rota, España. The Air Terminal is a U.S. Navy-operated AMC terminal. Whether you are stationed in the area or just passing through, Air Terminal personnel are here to assist you with your AMC travel needs. Please understand that our passenger agents have no control over the number of "Space-Available" seats or aircraft departure schedules. Both seats and times are subject to last-minute changes. We will make every effort to ensure travel opportunities are posted and to provide you with a clean, comfortable terminal while you are waiting for your flight.

Naval Station Rota is located on the Atlantic coast of southern Spain, approximately 70 miles from the Strait of Gibraltar. Known as the "Gateway to the Mediterranean," Rota sits across the bay from the romantic city of Cádiz, the oldest city and shipping port in Spain. Nestled in the Andalusian region, the area is famous for its sherry, flamenco and sevillana dancing, and the breeding of prize horses and fighting bulls. Spain offers a wide variety of historical sights and cultural experiences. We hope you take advantage of our location and enjoy exciting adventures and rewarding travels.
